

Kitchen
Front of House

Window or Glass Cleaners:

What is it?

These cleaners are used to clean windows throughout the house, glass tables, mirrors, and screens of TVs and computers. These cleaners are usually kept in the kitchen or bathroom.

What's in it?

The basic ingredients of window/glass cleaners are ammonia and isopropanol.

What health and safety precautions do you have to think about when using window/glass cleaners?

These products may be irritating to the eyes, skin, nose, and throat. If swallowed, they may cause drowsiness, unconsciousness, or death. If you need to use these products, you need to be sure to always "Read the Label First" to know how to properly use these products and for safety information. Always wear glove to use these products and use in a well ventilated area.

What do you do if you or someone you're with has an accident with a household product?

